Invitation for Oral Presentations and Posters for the Second Annual Emswiller Interprofessional Symposium presented by Virginia Commonwealth University

"From Interdisciplinarity to Interprofessionality: Changing How Care Is Delivered"
Richmond Marriott, Downtown Richmond, Virginia
March 1st, 2014

Keynote Presentation: Barbara Brandt, PhD
Director, National Center for Interprofessional Education and Collaborative Practice

Meeting Objectives:

- Differentiate between interdisciplinary and interprofessional care
- Describe innovative approaches to increase interprofessional collaboration
- Articulate facilitators and barriers to interprofessional care
- Detail some educational strategies to improve the interprofessional competency of learners

Abstract submissions are invited for oral presentations and posters of initiatives that showcase interprofessional education, practice, or scholarship. We welcome the works of students, educators, practitioners, and faculty.

Abstracts should describe the project’s purpose or goals, a description of the methods, programs, or practices entailing the project, and current results or conclusions. Submissions that pertain to program descriptions should also provide recommendations for others who may be considering a similar approach. Abstracts can include works in progress.

Please limit abstracts to a maximum of 500 words and list the names, affiliations, and email addresses of all authors. Also, please indicate whether you would like the abstract to be considered for oral presentation, poster presentation, or both. Oral presentations will be 12 minutes in length with additional time allotted for questions. If you would like to propose a longer oral presentation or workshop, please email Alan Dow directly at awdow@vcu.edu.

All accepted abstracts will be included in the conference proceedings and made available electronically to the attendees and the public.

Submissions or other inquiries should be made electronically to IPECENTER@vcu.edu by October 15th, 2013. Decisions about acceptances will be made on or about November 1st, 2013.

Conference registration will open in early October.
