Effective Clinical Teaching Workshop

Do you teach health professional students or residents?
If so, you will NOT want to miss this workshop.

This dynamic and interactive workshop is designed to provide physicians, pharmacists, nurses, dentists, and other health care professionals with effective and practical strategies for teaching students and residents in the clinical setting.

The workshop is free and open to all VCU faculty, residents, and clinical preceptors.

Presented by: Franklin J. Medio, Ph.D.
President, Consulting Services for the Health Professions
A nationally recognized workshop presenter!

Tuesday, March 12, 2013
9 am – 4 pm (lunch break 12-1 pm)

Participants are welcome to attend any or all parts of the workshop.

Virginia Commonwealth University, MCV Campus
Kontos Medical Sciences Building Auditorium
1217 E. Marshall Street

Morning Session: 9 am -12 noon
• Self-Directed, Adult Learners are Made, not Born: How to Break the “Spoon-Feed Me” Habit.
• Developing Responsibility and Accountability among Learners: How to Be an Advocate and STOP Being an Enabler!
• When and How to Conduct a Learner Observation: Teaching Effectively in the Presence of Patients.
• I Can’t Always Look Over Their Shoulder: How Much Independence Should I Give Them?
• Difficult Feedback Made Easy: How to Give Crucial Instructive Feedback.

Afternoon Session: 1 pm – 4 pm
• Implementing an Effective Evaluation System: The Principle Protection of the Public is the Cornerstone!
• “I don’t want to be mean or be the bad guy…I don’t like confrontation…” Stop Making Excuses and Do the Right Thing.
• Six Common Traps in the Evaluation Process: How to Avoid Them to be Fair and Consistent.
• How to Effectively Handle an Underperforming Learner: Remember These 15 Key Points.
• Remediation is Part of a Competency-Based Curriculum: It is NOT Rehabilitation, Recycling or Punishment!

Register on-line at https://redcap.vcu.edu/rc/surveys/?s=EoUhvI
You may also register on-site.
For questions email Chanda Diep at diepcn@vcu.edu.

Supported by the VCU Grayson Fund to the VCU School of Pharmacy. Organized in collaboration with the interdisciplinary VCU Faculty Learning Community for Faculty Development in the Health Sciences.